Company Overview

Who we are

Innovative companies come from inventive, passionate people. Being brilliant doesn't hurt either. At CoreView, our leadership team is driving the Microsoft market, making your enterprise dreams come true. With more than 15 years of experience and over 10 million users, CoreView is trusted by IT and security leaders around the world.

What we do

At CoreView, we solve customer needs together. CoreView and Microsoft work side-by-side to help customers better manage Microsoft 365 and other SaaS products. Microsoft CSPs can use CoreView to manage, secure, and optimize licenses for their customers. CoreView's powerful CoreSuite solution imports data from every nook and cranny of your customers M365 environment (plus any hybrid still on-premises), and then organizes it into a single, searchable database, optimized for speed. CoreView and Microsoft have proven that working together is the most effective way to help customers conquer difficult business challenges.

Why we do it

In talking to IT leaders, we hear the same frustrations again and again… their teams are spread too thin, spending too much time creating manual reports, have little visibility into M365, and struggle to close compliance gaps. At CoreView, we wanted to completely solve these issues for our customers.
