NATIONAL SECURITY INTELLIGENCE

Strengthening Alliances and Assessing National Security Threats from Adversaries

WHAT WE DO

Utilizing our language-enabled open-source intelligence (OSINT) expertise and military subject-matter experts (SMEs), we deliver national security intelligence products that inform political and military decision-makers in mission-critical environments quickly and effectively.

CORE SERVICES

Military Organizations and Personnel

We chart the organizational formation and personnel deployments of major power military units, notably in our seminal series of Directories of PRC Military Leadership.

Foreign Military Diplomacy

We track multilingual official, edited, and social media sources to assess adversaries' military diplomacy, including joint and multilateral operations.

Emerging Technologies and Doctrines

We analyze foreign adversaries' internal discussions on tech innovation and doctrine, using both conventional research and hard-to-find military sources—including their views on U.S. and allied advancements.

Applied Research and Analysis

Our language-enabled defense experts deliver in-depth reports on complex military capabilities, covering niche domains in equipment, industry, and systems development.

In-depth Biographic Profiles

We create comprehensive biographic profiles of key national and military leaders based on original sources in original languages. These fully unclassified products are ideal for sharing with partners and allies.
