CylanceMDR

Defend with Confidence

Organizations are adopting managed detection and response (MDR) solutions to boost their security and enhance threat detection and response. MDR providers use advanced technology and expert security teams to offer 24x7 monitoring, incident investigation and incident response support. The guidance from MDR providers also strengthens clients' security programs. Overall, this approach helps address the critical security challenges organizations are facing, allowing them to focus on strategic initiatives while maintaining robust security.

CylanceMDR™, powered by Cylance® AI, built on an open XDR architecture, integrates seamlessly with your existing security stack and provides comprehensive visibility across all attack surfaces to deliver high-fidelity threat detections. With an expansive ecosystem of prebuilt integrations, telemetry is collected, enriched and analyzed automatically, supported by robust threat intelligence for precise, human-led investigations.

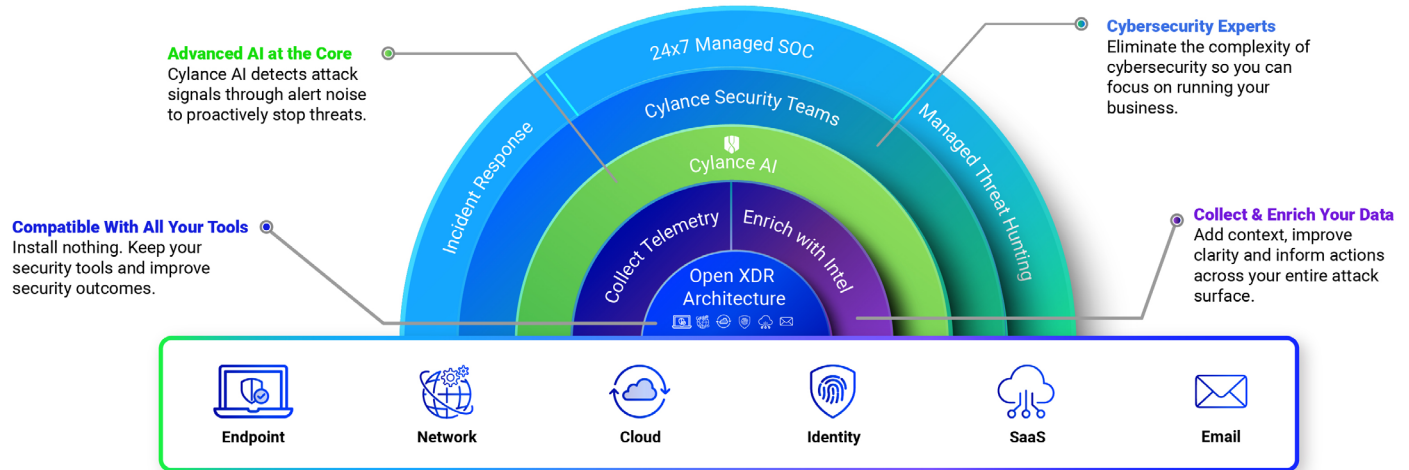

A CONTINUOUS, FULL-SERVICE ENGAGEMENT

Our always-on engagement model ensures continuous monitoring and response to threats.

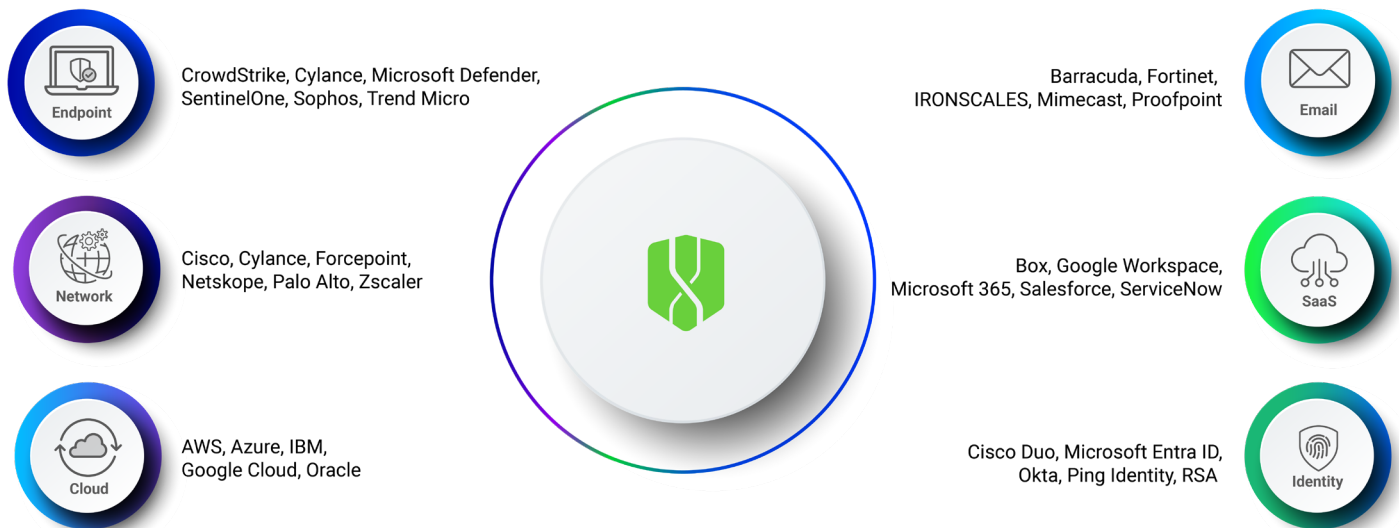

AI-DRIVEN, EXTENSIBLE PLATFORM

CylanceMDR is the flexibility you need, enabling you to keep your existing tools, improve visibility and enhance your security posture.

AN EXPANSIVE ECOSYSTEM

More than 300 platform integrations transform your business data and apps into powerful tools for enhancing your security.

COMPREHENSIVE SERVICES

CylanceMDR offers a complete suite of security services, ensuring robust protection with incident response (IR) models that include automated, guided and active response models for swift and effective threat mitigation. Expert-led, hypothesis-driven threat hunting analyzes 30 days of historical data to detect all threats. The 24x7 alert monitoring enables proactive detection and response, safeguarding organizations with top-tier industry expertise.

EXPERTISE AND GUARANTEE

The CylanceMDR team, comprised of seasoned security professionals with an average of 15+ years of SOC experience, provides around-the-clock coverage. Leveraging this expertise can lead to:

- Positive customer and employee Net Promoter Scores
- Real-time operational tracking
