Enhance Mission Readiness with Salesforce

The missions of defense agencies are complex, but the business processes and systems driving them don't have to be. The Salesforce platform - which includes Government Cloud that received a Provisional Authorization (PA) for Impact Level 4 (IL4) from the Defense Information Systems Agency (DISA) - delivers security, availability, scalability, automation, mobility and transparency. Salesforce enables defense organizations to provide a streamlined, transformed customer experience to department leaders, mission owners, and service members for critical business mission areas such as logistics, human capital management, healthcare and financial management.

Bringing Business Capabilities and the Operational Mission Together

The Salesforce platform helps customers break down silos, reduce technical debt and complement existing enterprise resource planning (ERP) systems. Provide an intuitive customer experience for service members, while giving mission owners and department leaders a shared view of relevant data for self-service analytics and informed decision making.

To reduce complexity, the platform can be configured to meet the specific business mission area needs of an organization, enforce business process automation/reengineering and enable application rationalization through digital transformation. Our solutions include, but are not limited to:

- ERP convergence and integration
- Business process automation, re-engineering, and workflow automation
- Asset management, logistics and installation management automation
- Industry engagement and community of practice enablement
- Defense health services
- Service member and staff engagement
- Mobile enablement

* Government Cloud maintains a FedRAMP Moderate Agency Authority to Operate (ATO), along with Department of Defense (DoD) impact level (IL) 4 Provisional Authorization (PA).
