TIBCO Software	TIBCO EBX	ARM, GDQ	Master Data Management (MDM) is a way to model, manage and ultimately govern shared data. When data needs to be shared by various IT systems, as well as different business teams, having a single governed version of master data is crucial. With EBX™, business and IT users can collaborate on a single, unified solution in order to design data models and manage master data content. EBX™ is an MDM software that allows modeling any type of master data and implementing governance using the rich features included, such as collaborative workflows, data authoring, hierarchy management, version control, and role-based security. An MDM project using EBX™ starts with the creation of a data model. This is where tables, fields, links and business rules related to the master data are defined. Examples of modeled data include product catalogs, financial hierarchies, lists of suppliers or simple reference	COTS	$381,460.00
