About Orijin

Founded in 2014 as American Prison Data Systems, which we shortened to APDS in 2018, we're now revitalizing our dedication to changing corrections, for good with our new name, Orijin™.

We are the ORIGINAL Ed Tech company that provides secure tablet computers connected to our robust cloud-based learning and communications platform to solve some of the most consequential challenges correctional facilities face across the U.S.

Orijin helps you transform your correctional facility into an outcome-focused educational facility and empowers the justice-impacted to rewrite their life stories.

Why Do Facilities Turn to Orijin?

Orijin's comprehensive education solutions for facilities and individualized pathways for learners are effective, secure and customizable. We help you produce a return on investment that really matters:

- Reduced costs
- Reduced long waitlists
- Complied with court orders, lawsuits and state board mandates
- Expanded access to all learners
- Alleviated staffing shortages
- Provided industry-proven, corrections-approved content
- Improved facility culture

Partnering with Orijin Enables Change

REDUCED RECIDIVISM

Using Orijin, learners are up to 43% less likely to recidivate

- Improved reading comprehension by four grade levels in nine months.
- 130% increase in GED pass rates.
- 30% increase in graduation rates (juvenile facilities).
- 90% pass rate for the Amazon Web Services Cloud Practitioner Certificate.
- 95% increase in access to education and technology.
- Earned trust from employers during the hiring process through Orijin and industry certifications.
