GET THE POWER OF MANDIANT IN A SINGLE PLATFORM

Improve your security posture.

Delivers detection, response and security validation capabilities at machine speed.

Deliver scale to your SOC team.

Provides Mandiant intelligence and expertise as automated SaaS offerings to SOC teams of all sizes.

Leverage existing security controls.

Works with the controls that work best for you.

Unify your security data.

Gathers information from your disparate cyber security solutions into a single platform.

Quickly detect and respond to attacks.

Mandiant Advantage delivers built-in expertise to your SOC team through extended detection and response (XDR). Our SaaS technology automates comprehensive Mandiant breach intelligence and expertise so you can:

- Augment your SOC team with powerful AI and machine learning.
- Prioritize and focus on relevant, urgent issues with threat intelligence and improved visibility.
- Increase capacity and efficiency to achieve accurate detection and response at machine speed.
- Measure and manage security effectiveness by safely testing and optimizing security controls against real attacks.

Mandiant Advantage is a SaaS platform that offers a controls-agnostic suite of products to help organizations understand their external and internal risks and provides the automation to operationalize it effectively and efficiently.

Mandiant Advantage is powered by the Mandiant Intel Grid™

The Mandiant Intel Grid delivers relevant, up-to-the-moment threat intelligence and expertise to help you respond to the threats that matter to your organization. Our unique blend of adversary, operational, machine and breach intelligence is derived from the analyst research, managed offerings and the hundreds of incident response engagements Mandiant conducts every year.

Threat Intelligence. Empower your team with unparalleled frontline cyber threat intelligence to understand and proactively protect against the latest, most relevant threats facing your organization. Access breach intelligence before it is made publicly available to stay one step ahead of attackers.

Automated Defense. Triage security alerts from your security stack at machine speed, scale and consistency using data science and machine learning. Automatically eliminate events that don't matter to reveal the ones that do.

Security Validation. Continuously validate and measure the effectiveness of your cyber security controls. Identify and implement opportunities for improvement, rationalize your security investment and remove duplicated or outdated security controls.

An intelligence-led approach to security operations

Effective security is not based on the security controls deployed, but the expertise and intelligence behind them. Without a significant increase in human expertise, it is impossible for organizations to win the global war on cyber crime. Mandiant Advantage productizes our extensive attacker expertise and threat intelligence capabilities into accessible, automated solutions that instantly provide the scale and capability teams so desperately need.
